WILD PROMISES BY McCANDLESS.

EDITOR HAWAIIAN STAR:

Sir:—Under above headlines, you published in yesterday's issue of your paper, news items from the Island of Hawaii, wherein you quote Mr. Robert Shingle as saying:

"We followed Link McCandless all the way round and heard of his speeches. His way of getting votes is to promise that every Hawaiian, when he gets in, will be given a homestead of 160 acres for nothing. He also attacks Cupid, saying that he is in favor of government by commission and would take away the Hawaiians' right to vote. McCandless has apparently gained in strength in Kau and Kona."

I deny positively the statements that are attributed to me in the above paragraph.

Neither the Democratic Platform, nor my declarations before the people, warrant any such misconception, and I request you to give this statement equal publicity with that given the article herein referred to.

Yours Respectfully
L. L. McCANDLESS.A HARD

DEPUTY SHERIFF SEA GETS SOME ADVICE ABOUT SERVING A DE-CEASED WITNESS.

There was trouble in the office of High Sheriff Henry this morning as the result of a subpoena issued in the case of J. P. Mendonca vs. George Markham. Deputy Sheriff George Sea was the man in difficulty. He had been ordered by the court to subpoena one S. K. Kepohoni and after a long and diligent search found that he departed this life some two years ago. Then George could not make up his mind just what return should be made. A kind friend suggested that he should state to the court that he had located the desired witness in one of two places but that he could not get into the first to serve the warrant and that if he went into the second, they would never let him out.

The Sheriff offered to furnish an asbestos suit, if George cared to make the trip after Kepohoni, but the latter balked on the proposition. He said that he would like to go for the trip but that with Chester Doyle away after Roger Abe in Japan and he on a still longer trip, there would be difficulties in Honolulu which would be too much for the rest of the Executive building force to handle. He finally returned the papers with the commonplace information that the man wanted was dead.

was to have that on which her house stood and that she believed that the written agreement, written in the English language which she could not read, so provided, her attorney, as he says, merely telling her that it was "all right," and leaving the plaintiffs' attorney to explain it; also that the effect of the written agreement was to place the defendant at great disadvantage in the division from being compensated by the plaintiffs' agreement to pay costs (about $10) in their partition case, which they discontinued, the surveyor's fee ($28.50), their own attorney's fee, which the defendant was in no way responsible for, and $50 for the defendant's attorney.

The result of a partition suit would have been far better for the defendant as the judge might of his own motion have directed a surveyor to set apart for her in one lot an equal portion on which her house should stand, and an equal portion on the other lot. The expense of this would have been inconsiderable. The plaintiffs' offer to allow the defendant to remove her house, which by the written agreement would be left partly on the division line, is not enough in view of the evidence that it would have to be removed to a less desirable location.

Equity will not compel a defendant to perform a contract which was made by mistake of its contents, or which he did not intend to make or which he would not have entered into had its true effect been understood, and this whether the mistake was "either intentionally or not induced or made probable or even possible, by the acts or omissions of the plaintiff." "A mistake which is entirely the defendant's own or that of his agent and for which the plaintiff is not directly or indirectly responsible may be proved in defense and may defeat a specific performance. This is indeed the very essence of the equitable theory concerning the nature and effect of mistake." 4 Pomeroy's Eq. Jur., Ed. Sec. 1045; 2 Ib., Sec. 860; Peterson v. Lazarus, 7 Haw. 129.

No cause appears for reversing the decree appealed from, which is affirmed.

W. C. Achi for plaintiffs.
R. W. Breckons for defendant.

This is the first gun, which will soon sound from Hawaii and all the other islands, in the Republican answer to McCandless' claim that he is working for the natives on the land question. Link is a large landholder himself, and he is going to hear a lot about his lands and titles from now on.

NO CAMP
THIS YEAR

NATIONAL GUARD WILL WAIT
TILL THE FEDERAL TROOPS ARE READY.

The local National Guard companies will not go into camp this year according to a decision which has recently been arrived at by those in command. The plan was to have the First Regiment go into camp at Leihana during the present month with the battalion of the Twentieth Infantry which is located at Fort Shafter.

Orders have been received by the commanding officer at Fort Shafter that the camp shall not take place this month but shall be postponed till February, and as the result the National Guard will also postpone its week in the field till next year. The change was probably made as the result of suggestions made by Major Dunnington to the commanding officer of the department. The spring will be an almost ideal time for camp, but during the present month, almost constant rains may be expected at the Wahiawa camp, which would not only make things very uncomfortable for the soldiers but would also keep them from doing work which could be done without trouble under better weather conditions.

The officers of the National Guard of Hawaii are very desirous of going into camp at the same time as the regulars for they know of the great benefits which they and their men can gain from the contact with the men of the Twentieth. The local men may be able to drill well, or able to stand a hard march, but when it comes to taking care of themselves when in the field and the many little details of camp life, it is another matter altogether.

Still another reason that the National Guard men wish to be in camp with the regulars is that the opportunity may be used for the annual inspection which is made by a regular army officer. A much better opportunity can be given in this manner for a searching inspection, in which all the small individual faults can be noticed and when attention is called to them they may be corrected.

HOLES IN THE GROUND.—NOT FOXES.—WERE DUG AND DELIVERED, SAYS COMPLAINT.

According to a paper which was filed in the Circuit Court this morning there is a business in holes going on in this island. Fox's holes naturally were thought of, but it does not appear to be the same case but is different according to a sworn statement prepared by an attorney and signed and sworn to by the plaintiff. It might be thought that Carlos Long was the attorney, but strange to say he was not. One of the interesting features is that it is stated and sworn to that the defendant did let, lease, bargain and sell and also deliver the holes to certain people. The method of delivery, whether by drag, wrapped carefully in oil cloth or not, is left indefinite. The following paragraph from the complaint of Rebecca Baker vs. Aniani Kaalaha, both of Ewa, Attorney Wade Warren Thayer for the plaintiff, is of interest:

"That thereafter, to wit on the day and year aforesaid and upon other divers days between said date and the date hereof, defendant did dig and excavate and cause to be dug and excavated, certain large and unsightly holes upon the property aforesaid, and did let, lease, bargain, sell, transfer and deliver said holes to divers persons, whose names are to the plaintiff unknown, for use as graves, and did permit said persons to enter upon the premises of the plaintiff and bury the bodies of certain deceased persons upon said premises; and did there seriously injure, encumber and disfigure the said premises of plaintiff, and deprive her of her free use and occupation thereof."

In the foreclosure suit of W. O. Smith, Trustee against N. G. Peterson and others a motion has been filed by C. P. and C. E. Peterson in which they disclaim any title or interest in the property or in the subject matter of the suit.

Owing to the departure of the Mar-churia on the 20th, the Katherine Oliver course of recital will have to be given on consecutive evening, Oct. 13, 14, 15 and 16, giving the Scottish Thistle Club evening on Monday the 19th. The same order of recitals will be given as previously announced.

If the time of the Mar-ma's stay in port on Friday suits, a luncheon will probably be given at the Commercial Club in honor of George T. Clark, secretary of the New South Wales Chamber of Manufacturers.

John B. Alexander, principal of the school at Lihue, has just completed twenty-five years as a teacher in the public schools of Hawaii. He received the congratulations of the teachers under him on the anniversary of the beginning of his service, and an autograph letter of appreciation from Superintendent of Public Instruction Habbitt. Mr. Alexander's first school was at Kilauea in 1883.

The Board of Health will meet at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

It is reported that Thomas Fitch is in partnership with Lorin Andrews at Reno, Nev.

HOME COMFORTS.

There is golf, and good living all the time at Haleiwa. Ladies and gentlemen who do not go around the links will find enjoyment on the dancing floor. Haleiwa spells comfort. And it is to be found everywhere about the place, from the big arm chairs on the verandas to the bed in the mosquito-proof rooms. And the cuisine and service are on a par. Nothing is omitted and Manager Bidgood takes from his guests the bother of expressing a wish—he anticipates them all and makes good.
